STEWARDSHIP

“For many, I tell you, will attempt to enter but will not be strong enough.” Jesus’ words in the Gospel remind us that there is effort, work required of us if we hope to enter into the Lord’s joy. It is not a free passage. The Christian Steward “works” with his/her gifts of Time, Talent and Treasure to insure entrance into the Kingdom. How do you do the same?

The parish Stewardship of Treasure for the in-pew collection last weekend was $13,250. God bless your generosity in supporting the “works” of the Gospel.

TWENTY-FIRST SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

TODAY'S READINGS

1. Isaiah 66:18-21

The Book of Isaiah begins with the weakening of the bond between Israel and their God. The Chosen People have pursued their own course. In this final chapter of Isaiah, a renewed bond is celebrated, but not just with the Chosen People—all are now in the bond. The universal character is symbolized by the reversal of the effects of Babel—all barriers to communication are now lifted, God sending messengers to the symbolically far-away places represented by Put and Lud. No part of the world is excluded. To Jerusalem, God invites and welcomes the whole world, an offering as great as any in the Temple.

2. Hebrews 12:5-7, 11-13

By accepting the trials of life as discipline, the reader is invited to come to know himself/herself and to learn to realize what must change in their lives in order to be a more faithful follower of Jesus. Jesus' disciples must be willing to be taught by His example, in accepting the sufferings that were essential to His mission.

3. Luke 13:22-30

Who will be saved? This is the question posed to Jesus. The answer is not easy. Nominal membership (I call myself a Catholic) and outward belonging (but I was baptized) will not suffice. For Jesus, the one criterion for gaining final entrance into God's Kingdom is doing the will of God. It is a narrow gate, accessed only by accepting our share of the cross and there is an urgency about doing that. All those who accept Jesus, and live accordingly, will find themselves inside, while those who fail to live the call will be locked out.

REFLECTIONS FOR THE WEEK

1. In your life, what have been the narrow gates you have passed through?
2. When you hear the first and Gospel readings, do they challenge you to think of those you would shut out? Who are they?
3. The 1st Reading sets the scene—no nation on the earth will be excluded from the Lord's holy mountain; all will be brothers and sisters. In these days, when stories abound about people being bussed around the country, do you see immigrants and refugees in that light?
