"Giving Back" is another term for Stewardship. Stewardship can be expressed in many different ways. This page will periodically feature Mt. Carmel parishioners who in their own way, try to help others. Some it happens that what do for a living can be expressed in our helping others. This is what this "Spot Lite On...Jennifer McGee" along with other parishioners from Mt. Carmel Parish helped her with. Stewardship takes many different forms, not all church related. Stewardship A Way Of Life!

Mt. Carmel parishioner, Jennifer McGee (Right in photo) along with Janis Fuhman of Terrie O'Connor Realtors, recently presented to the Women's Club of Ridgewood the first Home Design Expo. (Photo on Left)

The event, a fundraiser for the benefit of women's and children's charities in Bergen County.

The event included discussions, along with consultations, and demonstrations.

Jennifer is owner/proprietor of Jennifer McGee Designs, who lectured on the elements of design.

Among other charitable events, Jennifer hosted a "Ladies Who Love To Design" (right side of photo) cocktail reception in a room she created at the Hackensack Designer Showhouse in Saddle River.

The event was for the benefit of Hackensack University Medical Center Foundation (H.U.M.D. Foundation) Among the people who attended (photo on the right) were other parishioners of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Parish, Katie Hogan, Marianne Reid, to the left of Peter Sicko (center, with tie) Stephanie and Robbie Budelman (with tan jacket) Robbie is Executive Director, Individual Giving for the Foundation, And Jennifer. During this event, she lectured on the elements of design.

Jennifer is owner of Jennifer McGee Designs. Jennifer used her talents to help light and decorate the large tent that Mt. Carmel had set up on the south lawn of the church, when Mt. Carmel celebrated the 50th Anniversary of the current church structure some three years back. To know more about Jennifer check out the above logo at top of this page) or the back page of Mt. Carmel's Weekly Bulletin.

On a personal note, Jennifer is married to Jim and they have two daughters, Kylie 11 and Ellie 9 who attend the Somerville School in Ridgewood.
